Taxation

Premium payments

Premiums paid by the employer are not normally treated as a P11D benefit where the employee is working in the UK and is subject to UK tax. These premiums are normally treated as a business expense.

Tax relief on premiums paid by the employer in respect of someone who has a proprietary interest in the company or is an equity partner will not normally be available

Claim benefits

Benefits will not form part of the deceased's estate and therefore would not normally be subject to tax.

Any death in service pension must be treated as earned income for tax purposes.

General notes

The following sets out our understanding of the legislation and HMRC practice on 1st September 2014:

You should clarify the taxation position of insured employees who are working outside the UK in all circumstances as the tax treatment of premiums and benefits will depend on the individual's circumstances.
